

REGINALD ROSE'S CHARACTERS

BALSAM (FOREMAN): A small, petty man who is impressed with the authority he has and handles himself quite formally. Not overly bright, but dogged.

FIEDLER (NO 2): A meek, hesitant man who finds it difficult to maintain any opinions of his own. Easily swayed and usually adopts the opinion of the last person to whom he has spoken.

COBB (JUROR NO.3): A very strong, very forceful, extremely opinionated man within whom can be detected a streak of sadism. He is a humourless man who is intolerant of opinions other than his own and accustomed to forcing his wishes and views upon others.

MARSHALL (JUROR NO.4): Seems to be a man of wealth and position. He is a practiced speaker who presents himself well at all times. He seems to feel a little bit above the rest of the jurors. His only concern is with the facts in this case, and he is appalled at the behaviour of the others.

KLUGMANN (JUROR NO. 5): A naive, very frightened young man who takes his obligations in this case very seriously but, who finds it difficult to speak up when his elders have the floor.

BINNS (JUROR NO.6): An honest but dull-witted man who comes upon his decisions slowly and carefully. A man who finds it difficult to create positive opinions, but who must listen to and digest and accept those opinions offered by others which appeal to him most.

WARDEN (JUROR WARDEN): A loud, flashy-handed salesman type who has more important things to do than to sit on a jury. He is quick to show temper, quick to form opinions on things about which he knows nothing. Is a bully and, of course, a coward.

FONDA (JUROR NO.8): A quiet, thoughtful, gentle man. A man who sees all sides of every question and constantly seeks the truth. A man of strength tempered with compassion. Above all, he is a man who wants justice to be done and will fight to see that it is.

SWEENEY (JUROR NO.9): A mild gentle old man long since defeated by life and now merely waiting to die. A man who recognises himself for what he is and mourns the days when it would have been possible to be courageous without shielding himself behind his many years.

BEGLEY (JUROR NO.10): An angry, bitter man. He is man who antagonises almost at sight. A bigot who places no values on any human life save his own, a man who has been nowhere and is going nowhere and knows it deep within him.

VOSKOVEC (JUROR NO.11): A refugee from Europe who has come to this country in 1941. A man who speaks with an accent and who is ashamed humble, almost subservient to the people around him, but who will honestly seek justice because he has suffered through so much injustice.

WEBBER (JUROR NO. 12:) A slick, bright advertising man who thinks of human beings in terms of percentages graphs, and polls and has no real understanding of people. He is a superficial snob, but trying to be a good fellow.
